Thematic Sessions

The Mustapha STAMBOULI University of Mascara welcomes you to “The First International conference on Civil Engineering and Materials Innovation” to be held in December 09-10, 2024 at the Faculty of Sciences and Technology.

This conference focuses mainly on the most recent scientific topics related to civil engineering and the latest innovations in the fields of building material technologies and their applications, construction engineering optimization, reduction and to the risk prevention in civil engineering, progress in the structural analysis methods. This event is focused on reflections around sustainable development in the different disciplines: Structures and materials in Civil Engineering, road safety, transport and decision support tools as well as geotechnics and environmental sciences.

The aims of this international event are three folds:

- First, to give as a forum, the chance to scientists and practitioners to exchange between them.
 - Second, to give the researchers and scholars the opportunity to present their most recent scientific results.
 - Third, to give an occasion to universities to promote and consolidate cooperation and interact with the industrial world.
- Many thanks in advance for those who will attend the symposium and bring to contribution their experience and knowledge.
